2018 Puligny-Montrachet

Burgundy, France

reviewed by William Kelley

February 2020

The 2018 Puligny-Montrachet is showing nicely, revealing aromas of citrus oil, white flowers, crisp green apple and almond paste. On the palate, it's medium to full-bodied, bright and racy, with a fine-boned, elegant profile and a delicately sun-kissed core of fruit. (89 points)
